F# Two G frogs fell into a can of cream, Or C so I heard it D7 told.
The G sides of the can were shiny and steep,
The C cream was deep and D7 cold.
"Oh, G what's the use?" croaked number one.
"We're C lost! No help's a C#dim round!
Good G/D bye, my friend, this D7 is the end!"
And sinking in, he G drowned. C - Bb - G

F# But G number two, who wasn't through, Re C fused to compro D7 mise.
He G jutted out his creamy chin and C dried his creamy D7 eyes.
"I'll G keep on swimmin'! Where there's life There's C always hope!" He C#dim said.
"It G/D really wouldn't D7 help the World
If one more frog were G dead!"
